

Alex Lundberg grew up and attended Catholic primary schools in Aurora, Illinois. While in high school, he gained a fascination with history and geography and aspired to be a high school history teacher. After high school, he moved to Humboldt County to attend Humboldt State University where he majored in History. In 2007, Lundberg earned a B.A. in History, and in the same year, he was accepted to the Humboldt State Secondary Credential program. While earning his teaching credential, he student taught at Eureka High School and participated in the Teaching American History program for Humboldt County schools. For the next few years, Lundberg taught throughout Humboldt County as a substitute teacher and worked as a Home and Hospital teacher. In 2010, he began substituting at Saint Bernard's. Instantly, he gained an appreciation for the atmosphere and education being provided to students at SB and always desired to play a larger role in the Saint Bernard's community. In 2013 he was given that opportunity and was hired as a full time History and Core Support teacher, as well as the Varsity Girls Soccer coach. He loves teaching at Saint Bernard's and looks forward to being a part of the future of this great educational community.
